

Red Hen: Making a difference, one bag at a time!

Plastic bags are overwhelming our earth and our wildlife. I felt that this little slide show about them was worth passing on:

Wow, can you believe how those bags get around! And how dangerous they can be!

I decided we need to do our part and stop contributing to this mess. Once we exhaust our current supply of plastic bags, we will no longer be using them. We are searching for a paper bag source or other options, and will keep you posted.

Happy Mother's Day to all of you moms, and to Mother Earth!

Love, Mary Anne
